

Dual Currency Plus Terms and Conditions

1. Risk Disclosure Statement

The Customer acknowledges that Dual Currency Plus is an Investment (as defined in Clause 2 below) product that offers Customer the potential to earn higher returns through investing in a currency-linked option. By selecting a currency pair Customer is comfortable with and indifferent to holding, it allows Customer to take advantage of exchange rate movements to earn potentially higher returns. In exchange for this enhanced return, Customer will give the Bank the right to repay the Dual Currency Plus Investment and return in either the base or linked currency at maturity depending on exchange rate movements in respect of the currency pair. With Dual Currency Plus, at maturity, the principal sum and return on Investment are repayable either in the Base Currency in which the placement (as defined hereinafter) is made or a Linked Currency depending on which is the weaker currency on Fixing Date. Where the placement is to be repaid in the Linked Currency, the principal and return on Investment, calculated in the Base Currency will be converted to the Linked Currency at the Conversion Rate. The Customer further acknowledges that the net return on the Dual Currency Plus will depend upon market conditions prevailing on the Fixing Date and is prepared to accept risk of any loss as a result of depreciation in the value of the initial Investment resulting from foreign exchange loss which may in turn offset the net return on the Dual Currency Plus. The Customer is also aware that there may be a loss as a result of foreign exchange controls imposed by the country/ region issuing the foreign currency paid. Repayment or payment of amounts due to Customer may be delayed or prevented by exchange controls or other actions imposed by governmental or regulatory bodies.

The Customer acknowledges that any opinion given by the Bank in respect of the market (whether expressly or by implication) is based on information believed to be reliable at the relevant time and Customer agrees that the Bank is not responsible or liable if actual market movements adversely affect the return on the Dual Currency Plus.

2. Dual Currency Plus

- 2.1 The Customer may invest (each an “Investment”) by placing funds in Dual Currency Plus in a Base Currency and select a Linked Currency as the Bank may agree at its discretion subject to the relevant Term Sheet. The Bank may impose such additional conditions in relation to any Investment in Dual Currency Plus as the Bank deems fit in respect of the Base Currency and/or the Linked Currency. Such additional terms shall be contained in the relevant Term Sheet. Where the Investment is accepted for Dual Currency Plus, a Confirmation Advice will be issued by the Bank as an acknowledgement of receipt.
- 2.2 Each Investment in Dual Currency Plus must not be less than the minimum amount specified by the Bank from time to time.
- 2.3 Any repayment of the Investment in a Dual Currency Plus (whether on maturity or otherwise) as provided in Clause 3 below shall be paid to the credit of an account of the Customer with the Bank in Singapore unless the Bank shall at its discretion agree to the contrary.

3. Return and Currency of Dual Currency Plus

- 3.1 On the Maturity Date, the Bank shall pay to the Customer for value on the Maturity Date, subject to these DCP Terms and Conditions and the relevant Term Sheet, for the credit of such account with the Bank as the Customer shall have nominated in any disposal instructions (or if the Customer has not nominated an account, such other account of the Customer in Singapore as the Bank shall decide), the principal amount of the Investment and return on Investment thereon in respect of the Investment Period.

- 3.2 Return on Investment shall be calculated on the principal amount of the Investment on the basis of the number of days in an Investment Period or the number of days which have elapsed prior to any breaking of the Investment in Dual Currency Plus for whatever reason and the relevant Investment Year.
- 3.3 Return on Investment shall be the rate specified in the relevant Term Sheet.
- 3.4 The principal amount of the Investment in Dual Currency Plus and return on Investment will be paid by the Bank to the Customer on Maturity Date either in the Base Currency or the Linked Currency depending on which is the weaker currency as determined conclusively by the Bank based on a comparison of the Final Exchange Rate and the Conversion Rate on the Fixing Date. If the weaker currency is the Base Currency, the principal amount of the Investment together with the return on Investment at the relevant rate specified will be paid to the Customer in the Base Currency on Maturity Date. If the weaker currency is the Linked Currency, the principal amount of the Investment together with the return on Investment at the relevant rate specified will be converted from the Base Currency at the Conversion Rate into the Linked Currency and paid to the Customer on Maturity Date.

4. Withdrawal

The principal amount of the Investment may not be withdrawn prior to its Maturity Date without the consent of the Bank. The Bank may at its discretion refuse to give such consent, or impose such conditions as the Bank may determine for the withdrawal of the Investment, such conditions to include (without limitation) the deduction of such breakage cost as the Bank shall determine conclusively. Such breakage costs shall include the costs, expenses, liabilities or losses incurred or suffered by the Bank as a consequence of breaking its hedge, or funding from other sources in respect of the Base Currency and/or in respect of the Linked Currency and therefore the total amount repaid on withdrawal may be less than the principal amount of the initial Investment in Dual Currency Plus.
